The requirements bar is a visual representation of how many requirements of a degree a student has completed.

Degree Works Audit: The Body

The body of the audit is composed of blocks, which list various requirements. The Degree Block includes all the requirements to complete the degree, which consist of the core curriculum, school requirements, and at least one major. If a student is pursuing multiple degrees, the combined requirements for both degrees will be shown in both degree blocks.

Degree in Bachelor of Arts Catalog Term: 2014 Fall Credits Required: 120
Credits Applied: 138

- Minimum 120 credits required for the Bachelor of Arts Degree
- Minimum 66 credits above the 1000-level

IDEV 4300 3 Credits Identity and Development Print

A principal concern of many development theorists and practitioners today is the need to recognize differences. That means, fundamentally, respecting differences in identity and how one's identity or identities, such as gender, ethnicity, family structure, national origin, political affiliation, race, and religion play out in daily practice. The first section of the course provides historical and theoretical context for current discussions of identity as they relate to, affect and shape current international development theory and practice. The second section of the course examines cross-cutting issues where identity concerns intersect, with an emphasis on current trends and challenges, such as migration, violence, and urban change.

The student view is the default and covered above.

Registration Checklist

The registration checklist lists courses remaining in each block to complete it. Any course with an “@” symbol is a wildcard. For example, if a requirement lists ARST @, any course with the ARST prefix will satisfy that requirement.
